This packet contains the following supplementary documents. All are alternatively available under the directory /home/5156/packet on physics.

1. Introduction to Unix
2. An Introduction to Display Editing with Vi
3. Axis: A Program for making Two-Dimensional Graphs
4. GDB Quick Reference
5. Make: A Program for maintaining Computer Programs
6. Awk: A Pattern-Scanning and Processing Language
7. Gawk reference card

Students who like awk for quick tasks may also wish to read the gawk, sed, and sh manual pages.

Document 2 is copyrighted by the University of California; the copyright notice and permission to copy follow this page. Documents 5 and 6 bear no copyright notices and either exist in the public domain or are copyrighted by Lucent Technologies, and a license for copying follows this page. Documents 4 and 7 are copyrighted under the GNU general public license and include their own copyright notices and permissions to copy. The GNU General Public License follows this page. Document 3 was written by graduate students at Cornell University in the 1980s and placed in the public domain. I wrote document 1. More documentation is available under /usr/local/doc.